OXFORD COUNTY REPUBLICANS HOLD CANDIDATES NIGHT

Nearly 250 Oxford County Republicans and their guests crowded the Bethel Inn last Friday evening to hear U. S. Senate Candidate Robert A. G. Monks and Congressman William Cohen as well as the candidates for county offices.

The social hour preceding the dinner afforded an opportunity for all to meet and exchange views. The towns of the County were well represented from Fryeburg to Peru and Upton to Oxford.

Following the Pledge to the Flag, Chairman Arlan Farrar, Jr., asked Harold Hall, County Committeeman of Hebron, to give the invocation. Then Mr. Farrar introduced Candidates Monks and Cohen, and National State Committeewoman, Mrs. Henrietta Page Crane of Rockland, as well as County State Committee members: Mrs. Barbara Robinson Henderson, Oxford, and Philip Andrews of Fryeburg.

Also introduced were the following running for Legislative Representatives: Miss Karen Brown, who gave a brief welcome to Bethel; John H. Rollins of Dixfield; Kathleen Mersereau, Rumford; Ray Stetson, Norway; Jacob Immonen, West Paris; Donald Buzzell, Fryeburg. Leon Strout of Mexico was unable to attend. Candidates Norman Ferguson, Sr., Hanover, and Philip Jackson, Harrison, for the State Senate, were introduced, and also Richard Whiting, Rumford, for Judge of Probate, and Paul Nevers, Norway, Register of Probate; Elliott Hunt, Norway, for Sheriff, and Frederick L. Kennard, Rumford, for County Commissioner.

Mrs. Donald (Mildred) McAllister, Norway, who is secretary of Maine Republican Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Evelyn Bean, Woodstock, President of Hannibal Hamlin Republican Women's Club, were introduced, also.

Bill Cohen reported on his recent three-day tour of the St. John River Valley, where interest and support is excellent for both himself and Bob Monks. He finds voters keenly interested in the money being spent by government and said it took us 186 years to reach a level of one billion, and then nine years later it reached a budget of 200 billion and now in 1976 it has reached over 400 billion. At this rate by 1985 government would control all the national income.

Candidate Bob Monks spoke also of our $414 billion budget and the fact that Senator Ed Muskie whom he opposes, has to be view-

STATE POLICE WARNS MOTORISTS TO WATCH FOR "GOBLINS" ON HALLOWEEN

The Maine State Police remind motorists that Sunday evening children will be out dressed as ghosts, goblins, and "things that go bump" in the night.

"During Halloween, motorists should drive slowly through residential areas, keeping alert for youngsters rushing from yards and driveways, or running in the street," said Colonel Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

Parents can help keep their youngsters safe by selecting bright yellow, orange or white costumes. Recommended are costumes made of reflective material, or making a design with reflectorized tape (which can be bought in automotive supply stores). And, a flashlight is a good idea, Col. Weeks said.

"Halloween is fun-time for children," said the Maine State Police Chief. "Let's keep it that way for them by driving safely."

October has been a very busy month at the Moses Mason House. In addition to the classes on chair seating and foreign policy, a number of groups have used the facilities for meetings including Delta Kappa Gamma and the Historical Society of Early American Decoration, Evelyn Holmes Chapter. There were also 50 students from Mexico High School who visited the museum as part of a study of early American life.

RED CROSS OFFERS ADVANCED COURSE FOR REGISTERED NURSES

The Northeast Regional Red Cross Blood Program has announced that an advanced course is now available to Volunteer Registered Nurses, affording nurses a further opportunity to obtain Continuing Education Units. The Volunteer Registered Nurse course Part II will provide an opportunity for nurses to continue to advance their knowledge of the Blood Program as well as to obtain 2.1 Continuing Education Units, recognized by the Massachusetts and Maine State Nurses Associations as proof of professional education activity.

Many states, including California, Florida, Kansas and Minnesota, require Continuing Education Units in the relicensing of Registered Nurses. Some type of Continuing Education Unit legislation has also been passed in the states of South Dakota, Oregon, Colorado, Georgia, Nebraska, and New Hampshire. At the present time, however, Continuing Education Units are not mandatory in Massachusetts and Maine, but all indications point toward such legislation within this decade.

The two unit course, covering advanced basic concepts of the Blood Program, will consist of lectures, demonstrations, observation and clinical practice at blood collection sites. It will be taught by the nursing staff of the Northeast Regional Red Cross Blood Program at each of its Regional Locations upon request by eight or more nurses.

To be eligible for Continuing Education Unit Part II nurses must have completed Part I—the 3 hour class on Medical Histories and 18 hours of bloodmobile experience—and passed the written examination. According to a spokesman for the Red Cross, the Volunteer Registered Nurse course Part I was received with great enthusiasm by better than 1,000 nurses and, in turn, generated greater participation of Registered Nurses volunteering on Red Cross bloodmobiles.

If you are interested in participating in either Part I or Part II of the course please call your local chapter of the American Red Cross or contact the Nursing Department, Northeast Regional Red Cross Blood Program, in Massachusetts at 1-800-362-4450 in Boston; in Maine at 1-800-482-0743 in Portland and 1-800-432-7376 in Bangor.

COUNTY EXTENSION SEEKS NOMINATIONS FOR OUTSTANDING CITIZENS

Oxford County Extension Association will recognize the outstanding farmer, homemaker, and community leader of Oxford County at its annual meeting in November.

These outstanding citizens are nominated by their friends or neighbors and are selected by a representative committee from the association.

Outstanding county persons will be nominated for state-wide recognition.

In 1975, Maine's Outstanding Farmer was W. Henry Allen, Hebron, who, in addition to maintaining modern dairy practices and excellent management, also served his community, county, and state in various positions.

Anyone wishing to nominate an outstanding person in their community may obtain application forms from the Extension Office, 25 Market Square, South Paris, Maine.

An outstanding person is one who has provided leadership in his chosen field at the community, county, and often state levels.

Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Collata Morgan, Corres. —

This morning early the water in the pond was lucid in the bright light of a cloudless October sun; one particular patch of water was as transparent as a crystal goblet. By afternoon the air was cool, breezy, and crackling with the energy of autumn. So Ruth and I decided to take a walk in the woods where we'd be sheltered from the wind.

We parked the car at the entrance of the road and near the Sanborn Falls Bridge. The river was swollen from the heavy rain. We could see the torrent rushing below us and hear the water as if it were a human presence hailing us. The river tore at the banks as if trying to take them away.

This road eventually led us to the Town Meeting Elm. In a few minutes we turned left and went toward the mountains: the sunshine golden and friendly, inviting us on. The beeches and oaks flamed their browns and yellows holding a beauty on the hillside. Autumn, the mellow season; what we lose in flowers we gain in foliage color.

"There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood..
Touch of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple and the crimson keeping time." —Bliss Carman

We came to old fields covered with milkweed pods; open, and seeds dancing in the wind on angel wings.

Stillness prevailed. Mushrooms lifted umbrella tops along the road. Brittle limbs of dead trees taht had lost the bottle for light were down and covered with mosses. Giant boulders with eternity molded within their granite, we saw in many places. Old stumps where woodpeckers had worked, rose among the trees. And of course the stone walls, boundaries of by gone years. We walked wher the ground was springy or where the ground was springy or one place where they formed ridges, washed there by the recent rain, most of the smaller ends pointed in the same way. We remarked that they looked as if some one had gently laid them there.

Up hill and down we went then we realized we had to return so we turned back before we found the end of the road.

The sky gleamed peacefully between the brown, or naked branches and the dry grasses nodded as we came to a fork in the road and chose the left branch. Our feet rustled the brown withered leaves.

Close by something moved, stirring the dry leaves. We stopped to look. Could it be just a chipmunk making all that noise? It was.

We could now see the farms on Curtis Hill in Woodstock against a background of tumbling clouds on the horizon.

We crossed the bridges and walked beside the great gray and smooth beeches, the perfect growth of many years.

When again arriving at the Old Elm two red squirrels shook themselves and called, "For heaven's sake!" They puffed their chests and scampered with lightning speed, only for each to wind his clock, to snicker, and to chide us to be on our way.

We stopped a few minutes to view the spot where the old mill once stood on the Sanborn River. "Long ago the busy mill meant food and life and movement by the sparkling stream." We had a total experience of solitude in a world that could have been centuries ago.

We again followed beside the stream and up a shaded hill where the wind's song was drifting through the arching boughs of the trees. The winding stream was murmuring and whispering where trees leaned out toward one another, touching leaves and boughs above the beds of rock and ledge and stone.

So we finished our walk of just under five miles back from where we could hear the mountain call and there was thunder through the water fall. We held from this day, a collection of sun, wind, bright sky, chipmunks, squirrels, bright leaves and laughter.

Fay Holt and Jeri and Danny Holt of Windsor were in Boston one day this week where Fay received eye treatment.

Our callers this week have been: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, West Paris; Ruth Hastings, South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nottage, South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis, local.

Week end callers at the Hayes Homestead were: Ardell Hayes, Auburn; Glenn Hayes, Gray; and Duane Hayes, West Paris.

On Tuesday, we celebrated our 48th wedding anniversary with Ernest and Ina Mundt at Bethel. We had dinner with them, then rode to Upton and lunched at Screw Auger Falls on our return. We also called on Sylvia Luxton.

ON GETTING INVOLVED

From "The Legionnaire"
June 1976

I don't know if what is happening in our country has come about through accident, stupidity, or design—I suspect that it is some of all three. But I do know it has been allowed to happen through inattention on our part—yours and mine. What can Americans do to become more involved on the political scene?

Let's start by each of us getting to know our elected representatives at all levels. Find out what makes him tick—find out where his support comes from—and determine how he stands on the basic issues affecting what each of us believes in. Go listen to him talk—check the voting record—follow through on finding out whom he follows or leads among his peers. (Let's set the record straight—wherever I use the term "he," please bear in mind that some of our most effective legislators are women in action.)

If the candidate stacks up in your judgement on all points, then do your utmost to get him elected. If he doesn't, then do your best to defeat him. Go find a better candidate.

See him at home during recesses or visit in his office. Let him know how you feel on the issue of the day. Do this on a continuing basis, not just when you want something. If you can't see him, write him. Get to know the members of the staff, they are very important in passing on ideas or providing access to him.

Contribute to his campaign—encourage your friends to do the same. Work for the candidate of your choice and let him know of your support.

Invite candidates to your meetings and social programs—get to know them on a very friendly basis. Get your group to sit down and discuss the issues with candidates for all levels of office. Discuss the issues of the day with your family so that your children and grandchildren will know.

If you feel strongly about issues and can't find a candidate to support—then take a run at it yourself. You don't know if you can win until you try. Try it—you might like it and bring a new outlook to the political arena.

And last but not least—VOTE.

I am talking about involvement—total, personal, involvement in the political process. You are leaders in your community. A leader's task is to lead, and to lead intelligently, one must be involved and informed.

Someone once said, "I am only one. But I am one. I can't do everything but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do. And what I ought to do, by the Grace of God, I will do."

In the fight for veterans benefits and rights, it is time that we took a good look at the politicians and what they are doing for the veterans and the nation. It is time to use our great influence to promote the cause of the disabled veteran, the widowed and ophaned.

Time is running out—unless we become personally involved — in the future of Maine and the Nation. — Daniel Lambert, Department Adjutant, American Legion

ON GETTING INVOLVED

From "The Legionnaire"
June 1976

I don't know if what is happening in our country has come about through accident, stupidity, or design—I suspect that it is some of all three. But I do know it has been allowed to happen through inattention on our part—yours and mine. What can Americans do to become more involved on the political scene?

Let's start by each of us getting to know our elected representatives at all levels. Find out what makes him tick—find out where his support comes from—and determine how he stands on the basic issues affecting what each of us believes in. Go listen to him talk—check the voting record—follow through on finding out whom he follows or leads among his peers. (Let's set the record straight—wherever I use the term "he," please bear in mind that some of our most effective legislators are women in action.)

If the candidate stacks up in your judgement on all points, then do your utmost to get him elected. If he doesn't, then do your best to defeat him. Go find a better candidate.

See him at home during recesses or visit in his office. Let him know how you feel on the issue of the day. Do this on a continuing basis, not just when you want something. If you can't see him, write him. Get to know the members of the staff, they are very important in passing on ideas or providing access to him.

Contribute to his campaign—encourage your friends to do the same. Work for the candidate of your choice and let him know of your support.

Invite candidates to your meetings and social programs—get to know them on a very friendly basis. Get your group to sit down and discuss the issues with candidates for all levels of office. Discuss the issues of the day with your family so that your children and grandchildren will know.

If you feel strongly about issues and can't find a candidate to support—then take a run at it yourself. You don't know if you can win until you try. Try it—you might like it and bring a new outlook to the political arena.

And last but not least—VOTE.

I am talking about involvement—total, personal, involvement in the political process. You are leaders in your community. A leader's task is to lead, and to lead intelligently, one must be involved and informed.

Someone once said, "I am only one. But I am one. I can't do everything but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do. And what I ought to do, by the Grace of God, I will do."

In the fight for veterans benefits and rights, it is time that we took a good look at the politicians and what they are doing for the veterans and the nation. It is time to use our great influence to promote the cause of the disabled veteran, the widowed and ophaned.

Time is running out—unless we become personally involved — in the future of Maine and the Nation. — Daniel Lambert, Department Adjutant, American Legion

ED MUSKIE
WORKING FOR MAINE ...GETTING RESULTS!

Ed Muskie went to Washington because he believes the Federal Government should help Maine people to find jobs...receive health care...improve their lives. A few examples show that Ed Muskie gets results:

LINCOLN: When Lincoln Pulp and Paper was threatened with closing, Ed Muskie worked with the Economic Development Agency to help the people of Lincoln save their industry. The plant was refinanced. It was no give-away. The federal government has received from corporate and personal taxes more than double what it paid in. Jobs were saved. The company continued paying local taxes.

GUILFORD: Legislation that Ed Muskie sponsored provided a loan guarantee to help the textile mill remain competitive.

BEAVER COVE: When the bureaucrats refused to recognize the new community of Beaver Cove Plantation, Ed Muskie intervened and got revenue-sharing money for the new plantation.

NORWAY: Ed Muskie worked with the people of Norway-South Paris to obtain a $1.5 million loan from Farmers Home Administration for expansion at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

SKOWHEGAN: Ed Muskie helped assure that money for inventory restocking was available to a Skowhegan shoe firm which needed help to keep operating.

FRYEBURG: When a local shoe plant closed, the workers banded together and wrote Ed Muskie for help. Muskie helped the workers advertise their skills nationally, and now they are working again.

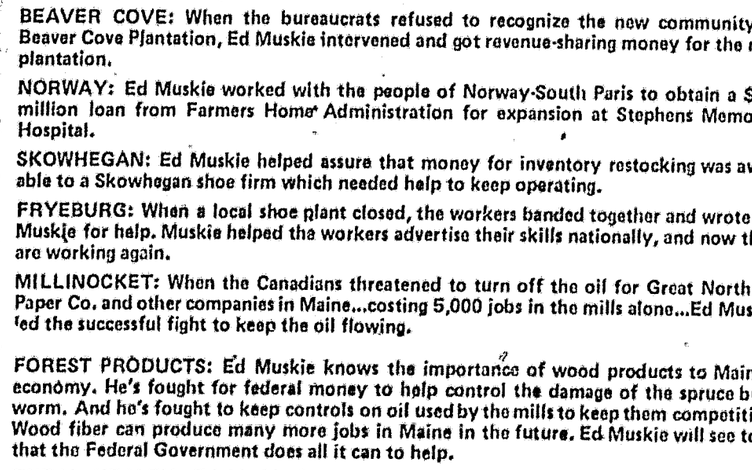
MILLINOCKET: When the Canadians threatened to turn off the oil for Great Northern Paper Co. and other companies in Maine...costing 5,000 jobs in the mills alone...Ed Muskie led the successful fight to keep the oil flowing.

FOREST PRODUCTS: Ed Muskie knows the importance of wood products to Maine's economy. He's fought for federal money to help control the damage of the spruce budworm. And he's fought to keep controls on oil used by the mills to keep them competitive. Wood fiber can produce many more jobs in Maine in the future. Ed Muskie will see to it that the Federal Government does all it can to help.

RURAL HEALTH: Ed Muskie fought for and won federal support for a program to improve and expand rural health services in Western Maine.

LOCAL ELDERLY PROGRAM: When Project Independence programs for our elderly in Androscoggin, Oxford and Franklin Counties were threatened, Ed Muskie intervened and helped get new federal support.

JOBS: Ed Muskie has worked all his life to improve job opportunities for Maine people. Ed Muskie wrote the Economic Development Act which has funded 125 projects in Maine designed to attract industry and create permanent jobs. Industrial parks. Business loans. Technical aid.
This year, he wrote the Public Works Jobs bill. It has two purposes: to get stalled local construction projects under way and to help local communities avoid layoffs or property tax increases. This program will bring $20 million to Maine.



"Maybe it's because he grew up in Western Maine. When my constituents have problems and the Federal Government can help, I go to Ed Muskie. He listens. He cares. And, most important, he gets results."
Doug Smith, Dover-Foxcroft

The Issues

ENERGY: Ed Muskie has fought to keep limits on the price of oil and other forms of energy. His opponent would remove these controls. The effect would be an increase in oil company profits and, of course, an increase in your heat and light bills of over $200 a year.

SOCIAL SECURITY: Ed Muskie has fought for keeping Social Security abreast of inflation. His opponent has called the Social Security system a "fraud" and has been critical of those who have voted to increase benefits.

TAX REFORM: Ed Muskie has led the fight in Washington to close tax loopholes and has voted to provide relief from the recession by tax relief for the wage earner.
His opponent wants to increase tax relief for business by over 11 billion dollars a year. This loss of revenue would have to be made up by somebody.

CUTTING BACK BUREAUCRACY: Ed Muskie has written legislation to end most federal programs every 5 years unless they can be justified - unless they are doing the job. Barry Goldwater is one of the co-sponsors.
His opponent wants government to cut back, but is not clear how to do it.

CONTROLLING SPECIAL INTERESTS: Ed Muskie believes that the people have a right to know that their elected officials are honest. That is why he has supported legislation to force members of Congress to reveal their sources of income. The legislation has not passed, but Ed Muskie makes such disclosures voluntarily. Since Watergate, he thinks it's even more necessary. His opponent...a millionaire in an oil family, spending one-third of a million dollars of his own money to defeat Ed Muskie...refuses to state his sources of income. He has said it's none of the people's business.

Ed Muskie needs your vote and your help to continue his work. Vote on Tuesday, November 2.

PEST CONTROL DISCUSSED IN UMO REPORT

Fly swatters, moisture, parasites and crop rotation are all methods of pest control, according to Vaughn H. Holyoke, a crops specialist in the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Maine at Orono.

Weeds also qualify as pests Holyoke explained in a report entitled "Pest Control for Corn and Forage Crops," published in September, 1976, by the University of Maine at Orono's Printing Office.

Holyoke maintains that there are five types of pest control. One technique consists of natural controls which range from weather factors to predatory birds and includes parasitic insects and virus, fungus and bacterial disease to which some insects are susceptible.

Biological controls include some of the natural controls as well as the development of plants which are sthrongly resistant to pests. Another biological control consists of releasing sterile male insects, causing interference in normal insects reproductive behavior.

Fly swatters and ultra-high frequency sound production are among physical and mechanical control for pests. Radiation, artificial distress and mating calls, repellents, lights, baits and habitat manipulation may all be used in the proper circumstances.

Cultural controls include crop rotation, timing of planting and construction methods as well as proper fertilization, while chemical controls are used in a number of ways to deal with unwanted insects, diseases and weeds. Some chemicals depend on direct contact, while others, call systemic, and taken into the plan itself to repulse pests.

Pheromones are chemical attractants which send out false messages to insects and are used to lure them to areas where they can be killed.

According to Holyoke, an integrated method of control is probably the most effective and can be used in three basic approaches to pests, including prevention, suppression and eradication.

Holyoke's publication lists the various weeds, insects and diseases which can inhibit and destroy corn and forage crops, and it further indicates the effective methods and techniques for dealing with each.

Copies of the publication may be obtained from the county offices of the Cooperative Extension.

Such beautiful weather, wind, rain, snow flurries and all. Brook is very high, lots of puddles everywhere. The Gladding-Paris Co. at South Paris was without power Thursday so the employees here all came home. They had lots of water in the cellar.

Schiavi at Norway moved the trailer Wednesday that Lillian Herrick and her family lived in.

John O'Hearon moved Mr. and Mrs. Lionel O'Bienes' heavy furniture Oct. 23, to their new home.

John Barrett was at Dr. Houghton's this week then went to McDonald's for lunch.

Mincemeat time is here. Have to have a fire so might as well make use of it.

Our sympathy to the family of Arthur Hart, a former resident who passed away Oct. 20 at the Ledgeview nursing home.

When we set our clocks back an hour on Halloween it will be getting dark before supper, a sure sign of winter.

Not many news this week. Maybe if the wind didn't blow all the time I'd get out and find some news, but wind is bad for asthma.

Until next week keep smiling and watch out for the holiday. One on every week end now.

South Woodstock

— Olive Davis, Corres. —

Mrs. James Mason held a housewares party at her home on Curtis Hill, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mason are spending some time at their trailer home on Curtis Hill. They celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary here with their children on Oct. 17. All of them attended the Bicentennial supper sponsored by the Adventist Church held at the Union Church that evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mason were very pleased to receive a congratulation card from the President and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ford.

I was told that Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mason have sold their trailer on top of Trap Corner Hill and are having a new home erected on the site. They are living at present in a travel trailer until they can move into their new home which they expect to do in the near future.

An error in the news needs correcting in last week's report. It was Leslie Bryant instead of Davis that fixed the Davis garden.

Mrs. Lillian Harmon and Olive Davis were in Bethel and Norway one day this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant and Carl Brooks called on Thursday at Olive Davis' home.

Snow flurries have been swirling around with the gale blowing leaves and snow everywhere. This is rather early for snow to be dropping on our heads. I hope this doesn't mean a hard, cold winter. Keep your fingers crossed and hope for the best.

Don't forget to vote Nov. 2. Be careful in voting that you pick the ones with their feet on the ground.

Maine needs 30,000 new jobs...

and Bob Monks knows how to get them.

30,000 Maine people who want to work can't find a job in our state. To Bob Monks, that's 30,000 people too many. That's why Bob Monks has said he wants to be remembered as the U. S. Senator who brought jobs to Maine. That's Bob top priority . . . and he has called for two distinct plans which will bring new, productive jobs to Maine.

One is the employment tax credit which provides an incentive to businesses to create additional jobs. It's similar to the investment tax credit instituted over a decade ago by President Kennedy, but there is one key difference: the incentive provided by the employment tax credit is to invest in people not machines. And, after all, the genius of Maine is in her people.

The second plan Bob has called for is a new national energy policy which will put Maine on an equal footing with other states. Maine, today, pays far more for industrial fuels than other states pay. This discourages economic growth and expansion. It costs us jobs. So Bob Monks has called for industrial fuel de-regulation which will equalize industrial energy costs around the country. This will not affect home heating costs or gasoline prices. It will only force businesses in other states to pay the same for industrial fuel that Maine businesses pay. To Bob Monks, this is only fair.

Bob Monks doesn't simply talk about the need for jobs in Maine — he's got a plan. Let's try our best to put another 30,000 Maine people back to work at real, lasting jobs. Let's make Bob Monks our next U. S. Senator.

MT. ABRAM FISH & GAME ASSN. HOLDS SUCCESSFUL FOUNDERS' NIGHT

The Mt. Abram Fish and Game Association Founders' Night at the Locke Mills Town Hall on Oct. 21 was a very happy occasion with 60 club members and invited guests in attendance. Also present were three charter members, Mrs. William Hastings, Mrs. Norma Tirrell Rose, and Burton Newton.

The new president, Stanley Lord, helped greatly in making the occasion a success, although this was his first meeting in office. Mrs. Lord was also of invaluable assistance.

The decorations for the hall and tables were in charge of Mrs. Angelo Onofrio and Mrs. Anthony Stone. These were beautifully done in autumn colors with bouquets of fall flowers for the tables. Colored bunting along with pumpkins, corn shocks, apples, made the hall very attractive. Mrs. Onofrio made a very decorative poster with the motto, "Preservation, Propagation, and Conservation."

A delicious and bountiful dinner with Rev. Ronald C. McKinstry offering the blessing, started the evening's program.

Superintendent of Game Wardens Vernon Moulton of Weld, gave an interesting talk on bear, deer, moose and coyotes, also trapping. Questions and answers followed.

Music on piano and banjo was furnished by Jim Stephens and Angelo Onofrio. Singing was enjoyed by all, led by Leon Ferrand.

Past Presidents Norwood Ford, Arthur Cummings, Arthur Gilbert and Jim Brown commented on events that took place while serving their terms in office. Arthur Cummings reported that the Freeman Waterhouse estate in Bryant Pond was given to Mt. Abram Fish and Game Association for a Conservation School. The club was unable to meet expenses, so that property was turned over to the state.

Also on the program were remarks by Stanley Lord, President, and a history by Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Lord.

The thanks of the club go to Abbie Valley for her interest and concern in this club who helped make the program such a success. Thanks are also extended to all members and friends who helped in so many ways.

WORD OF MOUTH CHORUS IN CONCERT AT BINGHAM HALL, NOV. 1

The Word of Mouth Chorus from Plainfield, Vt., will appear in concert on Monday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p. m. in Bingham Hall, Gould Academy. This concert is sponsored by Gould Academy with the help of the Maine State Committee on the Arts and Humanities.

The chorus is a group of singers and instrumentalists who have performed throughout New England for the past four years. Their various programs are taken from a large and quite diversified repertoire covering a wide range of vocal and musical styles including early American folk-hymns, medieval and Renaissance vocal and instrumental works and Balkan folksongs.

The music will be augmented throughout the concert with explanations of the different styles and songs, and translations of some of the pieces. A special tradition of Word of Mouth Chorus concerts is to include a period of singing with everyone present; members of the Chorus stand or sit in the audience and lead several simple rounds.

The opportunity to hear widely varying musical styles and to join in with the round singing promises to make this a thoroughly enjoyable concert for all. Admission to Monday's concert is free.

CARD OF THANKS

Finding the right words to fully express our feelings and appreciation for all the many wonderful things our friends and relatives did to help Norm through the long days of his illness is almost impossible. Words seem so inadequate. We can't begin to tell you what it meant to him, as well as to us, but we can tell you that knowing he had so many wonderful friends made each day a little easier for him to face. These same friends and relatives did so much to help us through those first days following his death that we can never begin to thank them. It didn't end there—they are still there, along with a few new ones, making the days ahead a little easier for us to face now. God Bless you all.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter because I am concerned with Maine's attitude towards the bottle bill. Many people believe that it will raise the prices of soda, beer and other bottled or canned drinks and it may....for a time. I can verify this because of my experiences in Vermont. Actually, the prices were 10 and 20 cents a bottle cheaper than they were in Maine!

The prices were higher for awhile but then they were lowered. The store owners were very cheerful when my friends and I returned our bottles and cans. They seemed even more delighted when we brought in garbage bags of them.

The people who brought Maine to believe that Maine would lose money were the storeowners. I believe that the storeowners do not want the bill to pass because they would have more work to do. They also believe they would be losing money if they gave the people their refund. However, when the storeowners take the empties to a recycling center, they will get back more money then they paid in refunds.

I'm a kid and I want the bill to pass not only for the refund but to keep Maine clean for my children and grandchildren. The reason why I wrote this is because since I am a kid I can't vote and I hope you'll vote in my place. I want to keep Maine scenic for a long time.

Thank you very much.

Very truly yours,
Cindy O'Donnell

To the Editor:

Below is a letter I have written to the town officials of District 63 which may be of general interest to the voters.

"As a candidate for election to the Maine House of Representatives, I am writing to all Town Officials and people involved in local government and committees in District #63.

"Enclosed please find a copy of my brochure which I feel expresses some of my thoughts and concerns for our rural area.

"I have found that rural areas have lost various State programs and fundings which are important to small towns. As an example, Town Road Improvement Funds (TRIF), Snow Removal Reimbursements, and Special State Aid Funding for town roads. These programs are not popular with larger cities such as Portland, Lewiston, and Biddeford as was shown by the vote of the past Democrat controlled legislature. Our representative voted with the city block vote on many issues not favoring small towns.

"In the next session we need more consideration. If elected, I assure you I will be available to listen to your thoughts and ideas concerning the upcoming legislation to be enacted in Augusta.

"May I please have your support on Nov. 2."

Sincerely yours,
Karen L. Brown
Legislative Candidate
District #63

To the Editor:

The disabled veterans and widows thruout the State, are up in arms, as the new tax bills arrive. They are up 50-75%.

The Legislature passed a tax bill to allow them an additional $500.00 property tax credit this year. Their hopes were up, but at the same time, due to the efforts of Maine Municipal Association, there was a change in the wording of the bill. Replacing the words assessed valuation are the words true valuation or fair market value. The town revalued its property and that cancelled all the benefits that the veterans and widows were given reason to expect, and more.

We should check on the intentions of our elected state officials running for office, will they rectify this injustice? We would hope so.

Sincerely,
The Veterans and Widows Friend
Fannie Cummings
Rt. 2, Bethel, Maine.

October 24, 1976

To the Editor:

I believe it is important that voters of District 63 be well informed when they enter the booth on election day and I am passing along for consideration a few issues on which Mrs. Saunders voted. I would cite these issues as evidence that she favors extensive spending programs, and special interests, while denying the Governor the right of veto to individual "pork-barrel" items without rejecting the entire bill; I obtained most of this information from Governor Longley's Newsletter of October 1976.

Mrs. Saunders supported LD672 and LD2128, allowing special tax considerations to the Sobin Chemical Company, and the Martin Marietta Corporation respectively, yet opposed tax reductions for other Maine business enterprises. In fact she voted to increase the burden on the income of Maine's individual taxpayers by voting for an eighteeen million dollar tax increase, exceeding the Governor's Budget by $5.4 million, despite pleas to reserve these monies in order to maintain a balanced budget. This allocation was voted for the first biennium, leaving funded programs unsupported in the second year. This clearly can be characterized as nothing less than shortsightedness.

Mrs. Saunders voted against LD2170 which would have provided the right to item-veto legislation, without opposing the entire package. The Democratic Party had supported this measure as part of its platform in the past, however with an Independent as Governor at the helm, the Legislature's Democratic leadership stood firm against this reform, and Mrs. Saunders merely followed the party line. Good government lost a battle with the defeat of this measure.

Mrs. Saunder's vote favoring gun control bothers me a great deal. Requiring the registration of firearms is clearly the first step towards the abolishment of our basic constitutional right, to have and bear arms; this right is essential, in that it ensures all the others.

In fact, in colonial times every man over eighteen years of age was legally required to own "a matchlock musket not under three foot nine inches in length, a pound of gunpowder, at least twenty bullets and two fathom of match (fuse cord)".

As evidenced recently, lawlessness does exist in District 63, and it is ludicrous at this time when the legislature has just reaffirmed the individual's right to protect his life and property from others, to be preaching gun control.

I hope all voters of District 63 will reflect long and hard on these issues, before casting their ballots on November 2nd.

I remain respectfully yours:
Henry V. L. Valcourt
West Bethel, Maine

To the Editor:

As I write to you, we are in the most hectic days of the campaign season; a period in which I am reminded frequently of my first campaign two years ago. I recall the promises I made to you at that time, and I take a measure of satisfaction in seeing that I have followed through on them. I have kept in touch with you, through my column and in person, and I have kept you always in mind when acting on your behalf in Augusta. Contrary to the popular political, saying, my record does not speak for itself. Rather, it speaks for you, the people of District 63, and what I, as your representative, believe to be the best direction for the most people in the district. Two years ago I pledged to remain free of the influence of special interests, and to work to achieve a more open and accessible state government. During the last session, I supported bills which sought to control the activities of the lobbyists working for special interests, the addition of consumer members of boards and commissions, the abolition of the Executive Council and the creation of single-member legislative districts. Open government is only open, however, when you, as individuals, become active participants and offer your thoughts to your elected officials. I have supplied many copies of bills to people in the district who have indicated interest in a particular area of legislation as well as encouraging individuals to testify before committees in Augusta.

During the past two years, I have learned that being a good representative for District 63 is a full-time, 12-month a year, job, which I thoroughly enjoy. If re-elected, I pledge to continue to work hard in your interest. I will continue to keep in touch, and to publicize my voting record as it is being made. I feel that, as your representative, I have provided an effective voice for District 63, from Magalloway to Gilead to Roxbury, Hartford, Sumner, Upton, Newry, Byron, Lincoln Plt., Milton, Rangeley Plt., Andover, Bethel, Hanover and Woodstock, and I hope you will allow me to continue serving you. Therefore, I ask for your support, and your vote, on Election Day, Nov. 2.

To the Editor:

I am convinced that the "10 facts" widely distributed against the "Bottle Bill" contain several untruths and a greater number of misleading statements. I am concerned that these distortions appear deliberate.

If you, too, rebel against this apparent dishonesty, your vote can help prove that Maine people will not be deceived to serve the self interest of this powerful out-of-state lobby . . . this unseen Goliath which has set a world record for effectively promoting waste and litter . . . and which, after spending hundreds of thousands of your dollars in misleading advertising, gloats that it has never been beaten.

Your vote can help your local government save on waste pickup and save on dump containers. Beyond saving your tax dollars, you'll be saving valuable land. Where will the next dumps be? And when those are full . . . where then?

Returnable beverage containers work! Remember? They can save you money, and they will save valuable, non-renewable resources for future generations. They give youngsters a valuable chance to earn money, while keeping our roadsides, parks, and shorelines cleaner and safer (safer because "no return" glass gets broken, then cuts the feet of bare-foot children and animals).

You can help leave Maine the beautiful place you first found it to be if you trust an inner voice and act on it. Will you mark November 2 on your calendar and vote???

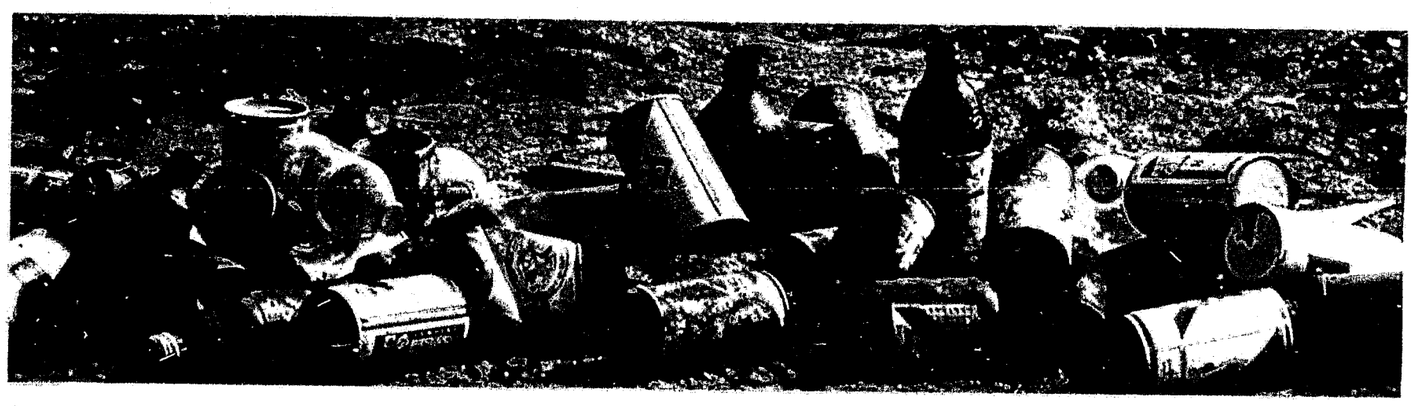
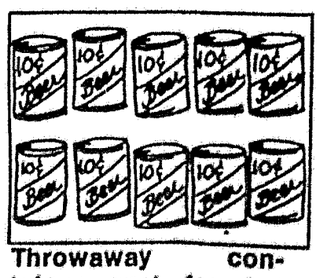
Q. WHY IS $300,000 BEING SPENT TO KILL MAINE'S RETURNABLE CONTAINER BILL?



A. BECAUSE THE BEER AND SOFT DRINK INDUSTRY IS MAKING MILLIONS ON THROWAWAY CANS AND BOTTLES-

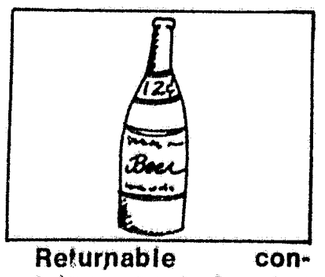
AND YOU'RE PAYING FOR IT!

These ten throwaway cans cost 10 cents each to manufacture. That's $1.00 for all ten. With the throwaway system you are forced to buy a new container every time.



Throwaway container cost for ten drinks — $1.00.

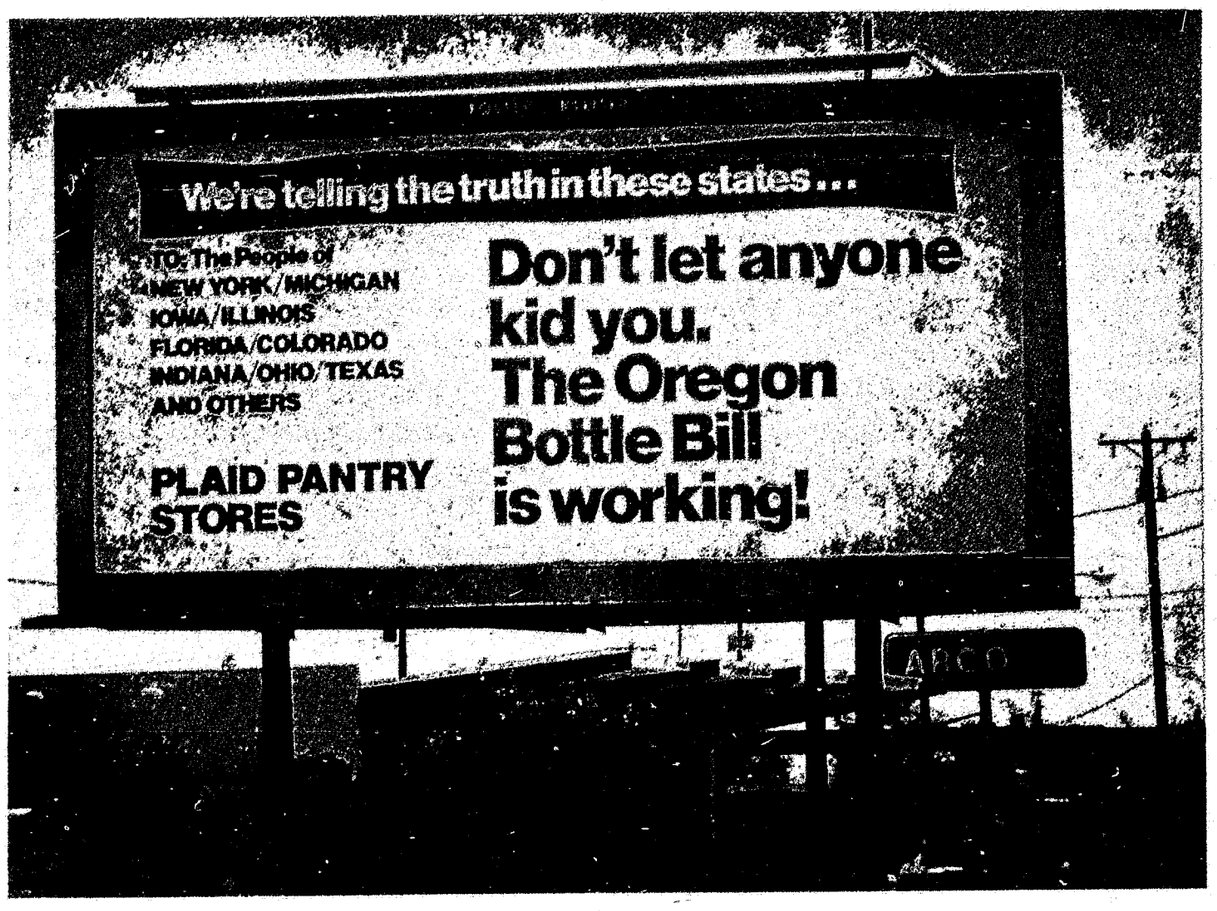
This returnable bottle costs about 12 cents initially, but it is reused 10 to 25 times. That means you don't keep paying for the container when you buy a beer or soft drink.



Returnable container cost for ten drinks — 12 cents.

In only ten drinks the bottle bill could save you 88 cents in container costs. Sure it costs some money to wash and sort the bottles, but studies show you've already saved far more than that by reusing the bottle. But the bottlers don't want to pass these savings on to you.

VOTE YES FOR RETURNABLE CONTAINERS



PLAID PANTRY FOOD STORES SPONSORED THIS BILLBOARD TO TELL GROCERS IN OTHER STATES THAT OREGON'S BOTTLE BILL WORKS

With 91 stores in Oregon, they ought to know. A bottle bill almost identical to Maine's has been in effect for four years in Oregon.

John Piacentini, owner of Plaid Pantry Stores says, "As one of two million Oregonians who have seen the results of our bottle bill, I'm proud to say that it does work, it is a feasible program, it is a savings to the consumer and a great aid in controlling litter on our parks, beaches and highways."

Mr. Piacentini also says, "I would rather have these bottles in the back rooms of my stores, even though crowded, than as litter along our highways and beaches."

HAVE YOU HEARD THE BOTTLERS SAY THAT RETURNABLES WILL END UP COSTING US MORE?

Well, if those claims are true, then why has a nationally known company been paying for radio advertisements like this one aired recently over 20 stations in another state?

SPONSOR: Coca-cola Bottling Co., Washington D. C.

How about that returnable money-back bottle of COCA-COLA? It's looking good in these days of high prices. With your help it recycles itself and becomes an economical way to enjoy the great taste of coke. You see, when you buy COKE in money-back returnables, you pay a small deposit on each bottle. But, this deposit is reusable each time you purchase returnable bottles of delicious COCA-COLA. So you pay only for the Coke, NOT the bottle. We don't call them MONEY-BACK BOTTLES for nothing. THEY SAVE YOU MONEY.

TE YES FOR RETURNABLE CONTAINERS

DON'T BE CONFUSED BY BOTTLE BILL OPPONENTS - HERE'S HOW THEY DISTORT THE FACTS

The facts about the "Bottle Bill"

FACT 1 Maine has already lost millions in taxes to New Hampshire because they have lower liquor prices than we have. If the "Bottle Bill" passes, it would have the same damaging effect. Maine would lose at least another million dollars a year in beer and sales taxes.

FACT 2 The "Bottle Bill" is not simply a new law that would require you to pay at least a 5¢ deposit on cans as well as bottles even though there is no such thing as a reusable can. The Bill does not even require that beer or soft drink bottles be refillable or reusable in any way whatsoever. And if the experience to date in Vermont is any indication, the so-called returnable bottles and cans on which you have paid a deposit, would still wind up on the dump.

FACT 3 Believe it or not, the "Bottle Bill" could prevent you from taking your returnables back to the store where you bought them. This could happen when a separate state government authorized "redemption centers" set up to handle returnables and refunds for customers of several stores. And this procedure would be perfectly legal even though the state authorized center was some distance from where you normally shop.

FACT 4 The "Bottle Bill" would do little or nothing to conserve raw materials. The bottles and cans covered by the bill amount to only 40% of all the cans and bottles which grocery stores sell. And the "Bottle Bill" worries about only 6% of all the waste on Maine dumps. The bill ignores the other 94% of the problem.

FACT 5 In the two states that have "Bottle Bills," almost all beer and soft drink cans have been forced from store shelves. Empty cans are more difficult and costly to handle than empty bottles so most stores cannot afford to sell them. Maine's "Bottle Bill" will impose a absolute ban of flip-top cans, so you would have to use a can opener to open any cans that remain available.

FACT 6 Most people think the "Bottle Bill" would only affect the beer and soft drinks which they take home from the store. That simply isn't so. You would have to pay a deposit of at least a nickel in bars and restaurants, too. And you would have to put at least a nickel deposit in the vending machine each time, for cans as well as bottles.

FACT 7 If the so-called "Bottle Bill" passes, you could start out paying a nickel deposit and wind up paying 30¢ or even more on certain large soft drink bottles. That's what has already happened in one of the two states that have "Bottle Laws." The proposed "Bottle Bill" simply says that 5¢ is the least you can be charged. There is absolutely no upper limit to the amount of deposit you can be forced to pay.

FACT 8 After Vermont passed its so-called "Bottle Bill," there was a substantial drop in beer and soft drink sales and as a result, tax revenue also went down. At the same time in neighboring New Hampshire where there is no "Bottle Law", beer and soft drink sales went up and tax revenue increased. Maine cannot afford to make the same mistake Vermont made.

FACT 9 In Oregon the state legislature, not the people, passed the "Bottle Bill." In the first year, roadside litter was reported to have decreased by 10.8%. What the people who favor the "Bottle Bill" do not tell you is that in the same year Oregon increased its expenditure for roadside Cleanup by 10.7%, spending $641,000 — four times what the state had spent just four years before. In the next year, roadside litter actually increased!

FACT 10 Returnable "Bottle Bills" have been defeated in every state and every city where the voters have been given a chance to decide. This includes a 1973 election held here in Bridgton, Maine.

If the "Bottle Bill" passes, it will only make things worse!

The Committee Against Forced Deposits on Cans & Bottles
Jon Doyle, Treasurer

New Hampshire doesn't have a 5% sales tax — So Mainers go there already for cheaper beer and soda. Unfortunately even the lower prices Mainers will pay for returnables will not change New Hampshire's tax advantage.

The bill has a deposit on cans because they are the worst part of the container litter problem.

Bottles will be refilled as industry adapts their plants to the bottle bill — that's what's happened in Vermont and Oregon.

Bottles and cans will not end up on the dump because people will collect them from the dump and return them again for another deposit.

Cans, while not refillable, can be recycled into new cans.

Grocers asked that the bill give them the option of setting up convenient but separate redemption facilities so that small stores would not have storage problems. This provision actually will help grocers to serve you better!!

In fact, Modern Packaging Encyclopedia says that 47.1% of all glass and 40.1% of all the metal cans are used to package beer and soft drinks. Refillable bottles save on waste because they are reusable. The bottlers own study admits that Maine towns will save 1.2 million a year in the cost of operating the dump.

In Oregon and Vermont most cans have been replaced by returnable bottles because returnables are cheaper and create less of a handling problem — proof that the bottle will work in Maine.

You won't have to use an old fashioned can opener. A new "punch top" can is approved for use and doesn't require a can opener.

Absurd! Many bars and restaurants already use refillable bottles because they are cheaper. State law prohibits taking these bottles off the premises so you will not have to pay any deposit.

Bottlers will charge the smallest deposit possible to insure that bottles are returned. If they charged too high a deposit, they would lose sales to other brands charging less.

Remember the winter of 1973? No gas, no snow, and a major economic recession. That's why beverage sales went down in Vermont. Liquor sales were also down 3% — and the bottle bill doesn't effect liquors.

The official state study shows that 91% of the people of Oregon think the bottle bill is a great thing for the state.

The truth is, based on official state highway department statistics, bottle and can litter is down 83% in Oregon.

Bridgton voters did pass a bottle bill but the ordinance was rescinded in a special town meeting because bottlers and distributors threatened to not deliver beverages to the town.

BETTER!

ELECTION DAY IS TUESDAY

challenged by Democrat L. Ann Robinson of Paris.

Democrat Oxford County Sheriff Alton L. Howe of Waterford is opposed in his re-election bid by Republican Elliott M. Hunt of Norway.

Voters will be asked to render a decision on the so-called "bottle bill" appearing on the ballot as a referendum question as follows: "Shall section 16 of 'An Act to Improve Solid Waste Management," which sections would require a minimum of 5c deposit on all returnable beverage containers, as passed by the First Special Session of the 107th Legislature, became law?"

The act would require: all bottlers or canners (manufacturers) of such beverages to assign a refund value of not less than five cents to each container and clearly indicate the refund value on each container; all dealers would pay the refund value to any person returning any empty, unbroken and reasonably clean container of a kind, size and brand sold by the dealer; the distributors (including manufacturers) of each beverage to pay the refund value plus at least one cent for each container returned by the dealer. The stated purpose of the "bottle bill" is to encourage recycling of beverage containers used for beer and carbonated soft drinks offered for sale in Maine. Forbidden by the bill are flip-top beverage cans and containers connected together by plastic rings or other device or material which cannot be broken down by bacteria into its basic elements. By definition in the proposal, "beverage" means beer, ale or other drink produced by fermenting malt, soda water or other nonalcoholic carbonated drink in liquid form and intended for human consumption. If approved, the terms of the law will be effective Jan. 1, 1978.

Four proposed amendments to the Maine Constitution are to be considered by the voters.

Proposed amendment #1: "Shall the Constitution be amended as proposed by a resolution of the Legislature to allow the Governor ten days to act on legislation?" This would extend from five to 10 days the time in which the Governor may veto legislation sent to him by the Legislature. Many times more than the current five days is necessary to consider legislation, which is increasing in volume and complexity.

The second proposed amendment would "allow judges whose terms of office expires or who reach the mandatory retirement age (71 years of age) to continue to hold office for up to 6 months until their successors are appointed?" The purpose is to permit continued discharge of judicial responsibility pending confirmation proceedings to fill vacancies. Because of recent constitutional amendment, confirmation must be by the Legislature instead of the Executive Council as in the past.

The third proposed amendment would "increase the Bonding Limit on Maine Veterans' Mortgage Loans from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 and to decrease the Bonding Limit of the Maine School Building Authority from $25,000,000 to $10,000,000." The amendment would reduce the amount of revenue bonds of the MSBA for public school buildings on which the Legislature may insure payment at any time from $25,000,000 to $10,000,000. It also would increase the amount of small business mortgages to Maine Veterans on which the Legislature may insure payment at any one time from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000.

The fourth proposed amendment would prohibit State bonding of current expenditures and assure revenues for bond service." The intent is to prohibit using the proceeds of sale of bonds authorized by the Legislature after July 1, 1977, to pay current expenditures, and requiring the Legislature to pass legislation to that effect. It also establishes the payment of interest and principal on all bonded debt of the State as the first priority of the General Fund.

DON'T BE CONFUSED BY BOTTLE BILL OPPONENTS - HERE'S HOW THEY DISTORT THE FACTS

The facts about the "Bottle Bill"

FACT 1 Maine has already lost millions in taxes to New Hampshire because they have lower liquor prices than we have. If the "Bottle Bill" passes, it would have the same damaging effect. Maine would lose at least another million dollars a year in beer and sales taxes.

FACT 2 The "Bottle Bill" is not simply a "new law that would bring back reusable bottles. It would force you to pay at least a 5¢ deposit on cans as well as bottles even though there is no such thing as a reusable can. The Bill does not even require that beer or soft drink bottles be refillable or reusable in any way whatsoever. And if the experience to date in Vermont is any indication, the so-called returnable bottles and cans on which you have paid a deposit, would still wind up on the dump.

FACT 3 Believe it or not, the "Bottle Bill" could prevent you from taking your returnables back to the store where you bought them. This could happen when a separate state government authorized redemption centers set up to handle returnables and refunds for customers of several stores. And this procedure would be perfectly legal even though the state authorized center was some distance from where you normally shop.

FACT 4 The "Bottle Bill" would do little or nothing to conserve raw materials. The bottles and cans covered by the bill amount to only 20% of all the cans and bottles which grocery stores sell. And the "Bottle Bill" worries about only 5% of all the waste on Maine dumps. The bill ignores the other 95% of the problem.

FACT 5 In the two states that have "Bottle Bills," almost all beer and soft drink cans have been forced from store shelves. Empty cans are more difficult and costly to handle than empty bottles so most stores cannot afford to sell them. Maine's "Bottle Bill" will impose an absolute ban on flip-top cans, so you would have to use a can opener to open any cans that remain available.

FACT 6 Most people think the "Bottle Bill" would only affect the beer and soft drinks which they take home from the store. That simply isn't so. You would have to pay a deposit of at least a nickel in bars and restaurants too. And you would have to put at least a nickel deposit in the vending machine each time, for cans as well as bottles.

FACT 7 If the so-called "Bottle Bill" passes, you could start out paying a nickel deposit and wind up buying 30¢ or even more on certain large soft drink bottles. That's what has already happened in one of the two states that have "Bottle Laws." The proposed "Bottle Bill" simply says that 5¢ is the least you can be charged. There is absolutely no upper limit to the amount of deposit you can be forced to pay.

FACT 8 After Vermont passed its so-called "Bottle Bill," there was a substantial drop in beer and soft drink sales and as a result, tax revenue also went down. At the same time in neighboring New Hampshire where there is no "Bottle Law", beer and soft drink sales went up and tax revenue increased. Maine cannot afford to make the same mistake Vermont made.

FACT 9 In Oregon the state legislature, not the people, passed the "Bottle Bill." In the first year, 29% of the litter was reported to have decreased by 10%. What the people who favor the "Bottle Bill" do not tell you is that in the same year Oregon increased its expenditure for roadside cleanup by 107%, spending $841,000 — four times what the state had spent just four years before. In the next year, roadside litter actually increased!

FACT 10 Returnable "Bottle Bills" have been defeated in every state and every city where the voters have been given a chance to decide. This includes a 1973 election held here in Bridgton, Maine.

If the "Bottle Bill" passes, it will only make things worse!

The Committee Against Forced Deposits on Cans & Bottles
Jon Doyle, Treasurer

New Hampshire doesn't have a 5% sales tax — So Mainers go there already for cheaper beer and soda. Unfortunately even the lower prices Mainers will pay for returnables will not change New Hampshire's tax advantage.

The bill has a deposit on cans because they are the worst part of the container litter problem.

Bottles will be refilled as industry adapts their plants to the bottle bill — that's what's happened in Vermont and Oregon.

Bottles and cans will not end up on the dump because people will collect them from the dump and return them again for another deposit.

Cans, while not refillable, can be recycled into new cans.

Grocers asked that the bill give them the option of setting up convenient but separate redemption facilities so that small stores would not have storage problems. This provision actually will help grocers to serve you better!!

In fact, Modern Packaging Encyclopedia says that 47.1% of all glass and 40.1% of all the metal cans are used to package beer and soft drinks. Refillable bottles save on waste because they are reusable. The bottlers own study admits that Maine towns will save 1.2 million a year in the cost of operating the dump.

In Oregon and Vermont most cans have been replaced by returnable bottles because returnables are cheaper and create less of a handling problem — proof that the bottle will work in Maine.

You won't have to use an old fashioned can opener. A new "punch top" can is approved for use and doesn't require a can opener.

Absurd! Many bars and restaurants already use refillable bottles because they are cheaper. State law prohibits taking these bottles off the premises so you will not have to pay any deposit.

Bottlers will charge the smallest deposit possible to insure that bottles are returned. If they charged too high a deposit, they would lose sales to other brands charging less.

Remember the winter of 1973? No gas, no snow, and a major economic recession. That's why beverage sales went down in Vermont. Liquor sales were also down 3% — and the bottle bill doesn't effect liquors.

The official state study shows that 91% of the people of Oregon think the bottle bill is a great thing for the state.

The truth is, based on official state highway department statistics, bottle and can litter is down 83% in Oregon.

Bridgton voters did pass a bottle bill but the ordinance was rescinded in a special town meeting because bottlers and distributors threatened to not deliver beverages to the town.

challenged by Democrat L. Ann Robinson of Paris.

Democrat Oxford County Sheriff Alton L. Howe of Waterford is opposed in his re-election bid by Republican Elliott M. Hunt of Norway.

Voters will be asked to render a decision on the so-called "bottle bill" appearing on the ballot as a referendum question as follows: "Shall section 16 of 'An Act to Improve Solid Waste Management," which sections would require a minimum of 5c deposit on all returnable beverage containers, as passed by the First Special Session of the 107th Legislature, became law?"

The act would require: all bottlers or canners (manufacturers) of such beverages to assign a refund value of not less than five cents to each container and clearly indicate the refund value on each container; all dealers would pay the refund value to any person returning any empty, unbroken and reasonably clean container of a kind, size and brand sold by the dealer; the distributors (including manufacturers) of each beverage to pay the refund value plus at least one cent for each container returned by the dealer. The stated purpose of the "bottle bill" is to encourage recycling of beverage containers used for beer and carbonated soft drinks offered for sale in Maine. Forbidden by the bill are flip-top beverage cans and containers connected together by plastic rings or other device or material which cannot be broken down by bacteria into its basic elements. By definition in the proposal, "beverage" means beer, ale or other drink produced by fermenting malt, soda water or other nonalcoholic carbonated drink in liquid form and intended for human consumption. If approved, the terms of the law will be effective Jan. 1, 1978.

Four proposed amendments to the Maine Constitution are to be considered by the voters.

Proposed amendment #1: "Shall the Constitution be amended as proposed by a resolution of the Legislature to allow the Governor ten days to act on legislation?" This would extend from five to 10 days the time in which the Governor may veto legislation sent to him by the Legislature. Many times more than the current five days is necessary to consider legislation, which is increasing in volume and complexity.

The second proposed amendment would "allow judges whose terms of office expires or who reach the mandatory retirement age (71 years of age) to continue to hold office for up to 6 months until their successors are appointed?" The purpose is to permit continued discharge of judicial responsibility pending confirmation proceedings to fill vacancies. Because of recent constitutional amendment, confirmation must be by the Legislature instead of the Executive Council as in the past.

The third proposed amendment would "increase the Bonding Limit on Maine Veterans' Mortgage Loans from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 and to decrease the Bonding Limit of the Maine School Building Authority from $25,000,000 to $10,000,000." The amendment would reduce the amount of revenue bonds of the MSBA for public school buildings on which the Legislature may insure payment at any time from $25,000,000 to $10,000,000. It also would increase the amount of small business mortgages to Maine Veterans on which the Legislature may insure payment at any one time from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000.

The fourth proposed amendment would prohibit State bonding of current expenditures and assure revenues for bond service." The intent is to prohibit using the proceeds of sale of bonds authorized by the Legislature after July 1, 1977, to pay current expenditures, and requiring the Legislature to pass legislation to that effect. It also establishes the payment of interest and principal on all bonded debt of the State as the first priority of the General Fund.

AT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES NIGHT — (Left to right) Congressman William S. Cohen, candidate for re-election, Second Congressional District, Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Chadbourne of Bethel, Karen L. Brown, candidate for Representative to the Legislature, District 63, and Harry Eastman of Fryeburg.

It is with a touch of sadness that I note the end of the baseball season. Not that I care so much for the games but cat and hubby like to watch and I find baseball far less undesirable than many of the other programs on this screen, except for the fisticuffs and yelling. At those times some mothers groups should go on the field, apply a butter paddle to the seat of the pants of these squabblers and stand them in the corner until they are sufficiently chastised to behave like gentlemen Otherwise, I find the games more tolerable by listening to the words and chuckling silently at my literal mental pictures. I "see" one man pop up and another "fly out". When a player makes a home run, I admonish the home to be careful on the bumps lest he make the kitchen sink.

As one of the leading reporters from town, I will comment on the debates and election. I feel like a child being offered spinach, either plain or buttered. The child would prefer that Popeye have the spinach and he get a hot dog. Can't we do better than two applicants who offer such a large portion of immature enanities and adverse inconsequential criticism of the other applicant. Imagine how far they would get if they were applying for employment in a company by such methods.

We have had several dustings of white rain. It is very spectacular as it comes and as it goes. The browns and greens of the grasses and trees show through. Some bushes have a thousand dainty powder puffs. The woodsmen find it more to grumble about than admire.

The quilt project never got past the dugout. If it gets out and warms up, maybe someone will get a small sofa pillow. Due date extended until there are enough squares to work with.

JACKSON-SILVER POST & UNIT HAD ANNUAL BANQUET

At the Annual Membership Banquet of Jackson-Silver Post and Unit in Locke Mills, a life membership was given to two-time Past Commander Everett Cross for his 30 years of service to the Post. The presentation was made by District Commander Robie Wagner of Livermore Falls, in the absence of State Commander Maurice Wagner, who underwent surgery Wednesday at the Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston.

P. D. C. John Howe of Southwest Harbor spoke and presented Robert Croteau with his 25 year patch. Commander Cross, Howe and A. Cummings were given their Past Commander Club cards by Post Commander Cleveland Lovejoy.

Following the opening ceremonies President Cathryn Lovejoy introduced District President Barbara Chabot of Livermore Falls and her alternate Jeri Brooks of Bethel. Both speakers stressed "Get Out the Vote" Nov. 2.

Other guests introduced were Legionnaire Carolyn Brooks, Bethel; W. W. I. Veteran Roland Haggett, Norway; Ruth Wilkinson, Wilton; Warren Smith and P. D. P. Fannie Cummings.

The Committee for the 6:30 supper was the Lovejoys, Smiths, Dunhams and Vera Cross. Junior member Ellen Lovejoy assisted in the kitchen and with the decorations that were in keeping with Halloween. The meeting closed with singing of God Bless America, with Miss Ellen at the piano.

W. W. I BARRACKS & AUX. TO MEET NOVEMBER 2

The W. W. I Barracks & Auxiliary #2943 will meet at the Legion Home, Tuesday, Nov. 2.

It will be preceded by a pot luck noon meal. Meetings will begin at 1:30 presided over by Albert Skillings and Pres. Leona Curtis.

The committee is Mary Bishop, Olive Head and Mabel Robertson.

FRANKLIN GRANGE #124

Franklin Grange held its meeting Oct. 18 at their rooms. Richard Felt talked on the errors of poor Legislation on Hunting Dog Control. The dogs were allowed to be used for hunting before the trapping season came in but the law was changed so the season is the same. This is hazardous to the dogs when traps are in the woods and can ruin a valuable hunting dog if caught in the traps.

The program consisted of pictures of autumn leaves and Bicentennial pictures, ones on Kancamagus Highway and local scenes also.

A reading on communistic control in our fair land was read, stating that "powers that are breaking down our country should not be allowed to have a party in our land. Free speech is carried too far in cases like this. We should be on our toes and do something before it is too late." Get out and vote. Remember this is your land. Let's keep it free. Don't forget about NOV. 2.

A cake and gifts were presented Harris Hathaway in honor of his birthday. Also Mr. and Mrs. Brooks had an anniversary cake at the refreshment period.

The next meeting will be Nov. 15. The Grange will be meeting only once a month for the next five months. Dec. 20 will be the Christmas program and tree.

WE ASKED IN VERMONT:

What do you think of your state's bottle bill?

Betty Carpenter
Store Owner
West Hartford, Vt.

"It really, really hurt us at first. We are only about six miles from the border. It took about one-third of our business away. I called my senator and asked what right he had to take one-third of my business away. I have two daughters to put through school. We have some awfully dirty bottles and cans come back. Look at this can. We aren't supposed to have to take them back like this but what are you going to tell a good customer?"

"It's more work involved that what it's really worth. I just turned 18, I never had a chance to vote on it. If you're smart, you won't get a bottle bill in Maine. Prices go up more than just 30 cents a six-pack. We've got certain hours that we can take back the bottles. It's just too busy Sundays to take them back."

Nancy Spurr
Store Clerk
Windsor, Vt.

John Karpinski, Store Owner, Bellows Falls, Vt.

It's killed our business. It's cleaned up the highways a little bit, but not all of it. I'd rather see a few bottles and still have our business.

It's hurt a lot, one third to one-half of a store's business. Mine, it's over one-half. Beer, wine, soda and magazines was almost all our business. The guy across the street, he only buys about one-half what he used to.

We sell a few bottles or cans during the week, but on weekends, when they are going to have a party, they go right across the borders to buy their large quantities.

That's Why We Say

VOTE NO

Gould runners were cross country champions of the Mountain Valley Conference.

A committee of 11 was named by Dexter Stowell, chairman of the S. A. D. #44 directors, to recommend a method of selecting a name for the district's new junior-senior high school.

Announced as cheerleaders at Andover High School were: Kathryn Feener, Victoria Simmons, Bonnie Farrington, Phyllis Littlehale, Barbara Sylvester, and Mary Sylvester.

Bids were being requested from grading and well-drilling contractors for work to be done at the site of the new junior-senior high school of S. A. D. #44.

About three miles of transmission line between Paris Hill and West Paris were replaced. Ten Central Maine Power Co. crews worked together one afternoon on the project.

Dr. W. H. Boynton left Bethel for two years with a medical mission for the United States Government.

The farm house owned and occupied by Leon Kimball near the North Waterford pumping station was destroyed by fire. Reportedly, the fire's cause was undetermined.

Deaths: James. L. Merrill, Robert Gilbert.

The Silver Star Girl Scout Troop of 33 members were on a camping trip to Boyker's camp, Paradise Road. (The camp, later owned by the late Dr. R. R. Tibbetts, was destroyed by fire in 1955.)

Kenneth Wight was constructing a home in Mayville.

A winter sports meeting was held in the rooms over Rowe's Store. (The building was razed prior to the construction of the Bethel Fire Station, a decade ago.)

Bears were plentiful. Several were shot near Bethel.

There was a fall of about six inches of snow.

A two-horse team and two automobiles were in a mix-up on the toll bridge due to slippery road. No one was hurt. The wagon and cars were damaged. (The "toll bridge" was located a short distance downstream from the present bridge over the Androscoggin from Bridge Street to Mayville.)

Deaths: Nathaniel W. Bennett.

"GET OUT THE VOTE"

From "The Legionnaire"
June, 1976

This is a presidential election year. It is America's Bicentennial year. As we head toward the general election in November, let's make it an election that will let the world know Americans value their freedoms.

The American Legion again this year is participating in the "GET OUT THE VOTE" campaign. The Legion has been on record since 1920 urging all Legionnaires to exercise their patriotic duty.

But the Legion has found, just as the candidates have, it's a tough task getting Americans to exercise their right to vote, particularly during presidential election years.

Inquiring into this dilemma, all kinds of explanations are offered, but none of the excuses offered stands up under analysis. One vote for example, can decide an election and frequently has.

President Harry Truman won the 1948 election but would have lost had he not carried California and Ohio, and he did that by less than one vote per precinct. In the same year, Texas sent Lyndon Johnson to the Senate by a majority of only 87 votes. In the 1960 presidential election, the late John F. Kennedy defeated Richard Nixon for the highest office in the land by a hairline margin, averaging less than one vote per precinct. That year there were 166,550 election precincts in the United States and his plurality was only 118,550. If some of those people who thought their votes wouldn't count, had voted, the results of these elections might have been different.

This is America...and we live the American way of life. But unfortunately one of the frailties of human nature is to take for granted the blessings that are given to us. Perhaps, as Legionnaires, we value them more. The American Legion is made up of nearly three million war-tested veterans who value freedom because we have experienced the hardships and pain of having to fight for it. We as Legionnaires should gladly assume the obligation of helping to point out the one way all Americans can safeguard that freedom now. That one way is the way to the polls in the upcoming election.

U. S. COAST GUARD WARNS OF DANGERS FROM COLD WATER EXPOSURE

The U. S. Coast Guard cautions boaters to the dangers of hypothermia and possible deaths from cold water exposure in many areas of the United States during the waning weeks of summer and into the fall.

The change in season causes air and water temperature drops that pose a distinct danger to recreational boaters. Tragic deaths from hypothermia occur each year in cold water boating accidents.

Hypothermia is the reduction of the body's vital core temperature. If someone is immersed in water, even water in the 60° range, death can result within a relatively short period of time from the loss of this vital core heat.

Exposure, another term for hypothermia, also affects mountain climbers, hikers, or persons lost in the outdoors in cold weather.

The best protection from hypothermia is to avoid getting dunked. Some necessary cautions, therefore, include:

Not standing up or moving around in a small boat.

Not overloading the boat and ensuring that the load is properly distributed.

Avoiding sudden high speed turns.

Avoiding sudden deceleration which will allow the sternwake to overtake and swamp the boat by climbing the transom.

However, if you are forced into the water, immediately try to return to the boat and use it as a platform to keep as much of your body out of the water as possible? The areas through which most of the body core heat escapes are: the head, neck, sides, shoulders, and groin. It should also be noted that alcoholic beverages actually speed up the heat loss because alcohol causes the blood vessels to relax and expand, allowing faster heat dispersal.

Hunters and fishermen are prime targets for hypothermia because they use small, relatively unstable boats during fall and winter. Also, they usually wear heavy clothing and often carry ammunition and other heavy things in their pockets which reduce their buoyancy should they end up in the water. It is important, therefore, that they wear a Personal Flotation Device (PFD) when on the water.

Hypothermia is dangerous. Anyone associated with recreational boating should learn as much about it as possible.

GILEAD SKATING RINK NEARS COMPLETION

The Gilead Women's Club would like to express it's special thanks to those who showed up on Saturday to assemble the plywood, drive stakes and nail the outside forms for the skating rink. Now, all that is needed is cold weather and frozen ground so it can be flooded.

The teenage boys are to be congratulated for working very hard despite the cold weather. Thanks go to Greg Tyler, Jody Gaudreau, Dennis Corriveau, Gary Carter and David and Michael Taylor, also to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ferrand, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tyler, Ernest Chapman, Tony Bennett, Lynsley Chapman, Carol Taylor and Luella Cole, and to Fernand Corriveau who donated a box of nails, and Ted Taylor for sawing the plywood.

PUC SCHEDULES HEARINGS ON CONTINENTAL TELEPHONE RATE INCREASE REQUEST

The Public Utilities Commission has scheduled the first round of public hearings Nov. 3, 4, and 5, on the average increase of 21½% in rates of Continental Telephone of Maine.

Continental Telephone of Maine, serving about 33,000 customers in the Fort Kent and Island Falls areas in Aroostook County, as well as in Damariscotta, Liberty, Raymond, Fryeburg, Andover and Bethel areas, filed its request with the PUC last April 22.

The hike as requested by CTC would produce additional revenues of $510,488 and would vary from 6% to 50%, depending on the exchange and would average 21%.

In its application, CTC noted that if the rate hike is approved by the PUC, the maximum increase for any residential customer will be about $2.85 per month, and $6.05 per individual line per month for business customers. The Company also seeks increases in service connection charges and in other supplemental services and equipment.

Pursuant to the Commission's alternate hearings procedures, a pre-hearing conference on this case was held in Augusta last Sept. 10. Formal petitions to intervene were accepted from House Speaker John L. Martin, D-Eagle Lake; Representative James Wilfong, D-Stow, attorney Charles A. Peirce of Palermo and John R. Kingman of Oakfield.

The November hearings will be held in Room 228 at the State House, Augusta, at 10 a. m., and Thursday, Nov. 4, is being devoted to the testimony of public witnesses who desire to testify in the proceeding as interested parties. Following the three-day round of hearings, the hearings will be recessed to dates and location to be announced.

STATE POLICE CAUTION ON FALL ROAD HAZARDS

The Maine State Police caution that reduced visibility plays a leading role in many accidents at this time of the year.

Fog or autumn haze is not the only barrier to vision on the roadway. Piles of leaves beside the road can also result in an accident —or death.

"The autumn haze develops into fog—always a road hazard—calling for low beam lights, reduced speed and extra caution," say Col. Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

"Children get a kick out of crawling into a pile of leaves and sometimes forget that they should never play in the roadway," said Col. Weeks.

The Maine State Police Chief urges motorists that children may forget to be careful, so never run over a pile of leaves.

HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

— Kathy Bennett, Corres. —

An early warning that winter lurks in the wings is in evidence this morning in the form of light snow.

Jane Wardwell spent last week vacationing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wardwell.

Callers at the home of Hugh and Edith Stearns have been, Miss Ivy Philbrook, Mrs. Ethel Nygren, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Waterhouse, and Kenny Bumpus.

Barbara, Howard and Renita Inman went to Conway on Thursday.

Rebecca Ring of Lovell called on Elna and Albert McAllister on Saturday. Rodney McAllister helped his Dad move stoves one day this week. Sunday night, Albert and Elna had supper with their daughter, Alberta White and family.

Preparations for winter continue here at K-D's acres. With all the rain we got last week, I guess the plowing will have to wait until spring. Callers this week have been, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Maillet, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nutting, Barbara Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Roydon Billings and Flo Cairns.

Don't forget that Nov. 2, is election day. Please, all of you, exercise the right you have as an American and vote for the candidates of your choice.

ELECT
Karen L. Brown
REPRESENTATIVE
District 63
ON NOV. 2

She listens
and will vote your views

I have been visiting with you, the people of District 63, for several months now, knocking on doors, attending meetings, touring mills, stopping at stores and businesses, and talking with local officials. I believe that I have developed a basic understanding of the problems and issues confronting us in our district.

What I Hear

YOU TELL ME THAT YOU "DO NOT WANT HIGHER TAXES": I will vote against higher taxes. My opponent voted to override Governor Longley's veto of the $10 million tax increase during the special session of the 107th legislature.

YOU TELL ME THAT YOU "DON'T WANT GUN CONTROL": I will vote against gun control. My opponent voted to keep a gun control bill alive on the floor of the House during the 107th legislature.

YOU TELL ME THAT YOU FEEL "GOVERNOR LONGLEY IS DOING A GOOD JOB TRYING TO BRING GREATER FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY AND EFFICIENCY TO STATE GOVERNMENT:": I will work with the Governor to attain these goals.

My opponent voted against Governor Longley every time on the 5 issues that the Governor felt best evidenced a commitment to Fiscal Responsibility.

YOU TELL ME THAT YOU FEEL "SMALL BUSINESSMEN AND FARMERS NEED MORE FREEDOM" FROM STATE REGULATION:" I will support a minimum of state regulations and a maximum of local control for our towns.

My opponent voted with the Maine Chamber of Commerce on only 4 of 13 key bills

YOU TELL ME THAT YOU "WANT TO RECEIVE ONCE AGAIN TOWN ROAD IMPROVEMENT FUNDS, SNOW REMOVAL REIMBURSEMENTS": I will work hard to see that these monies are returned to the towns.

KAREN L. BROWN WILL REPRESENT YOU
